Fishermen Tell of Disaster at Sea

STORIES ON PAGES 2, 21, 22

Dorothy, Daughter of Wilfred Hines

Ship News . . . Good—While there were heavy hearts in some Boston homes today as aftermath of collision of two fishing boats in fog at sea, the families of A. Thomas Bowdridge and Wilfred Hines found their grief turned to joy as word came that their sailormen were saved. At left, Dorothy Hines, 11, learns the good news over the telephone. Above, Bowdridge's family shows their joy over his survival . . . (sitting) Arthur, 18, Gertude, 12, Mrs. Bowdridge, Ralph, 15, Shirley, 7, (standing) George, 13, and Harriet, 16.

46 MEN SAVED IN SEA CRASH

YARMOUTH, N. S., May 12—All 47 men aboard the Boston fishing schooners Edith C. Rose and Isabelle Parker, which sank after a fog collision early Wednesday, were accounted for early this afternoon.

All are alive, with the exception of Frank Nickerson of Argyle Sound, N. S., crew member of the Isabelle Parker, who is believed to have died of heart failure when the ships collided.

IN CRASH—Howard Nickerson of Revere street, West End, took on the schooner Edith C. Rose, sunk in collision, is survivor.

His body was taken ashore at Westport, N. S., in one of the survivors' dories.

There were 33 men picked up by coastal and fishing vessels and brought to Yarmouth after hours of rowing toward the coast in dories.

OTHERS LAND SAFELY

Three men were safe at Jonesport, Me., and 10 others were reported to be on their way to Yarmouth after reaching the Nova Scotian coast safely.

The fishermen had been the objects of a gigantic sea and air search until the survivors were reported accounted for. This afternoon, in Boston, Captain Charles M. Lyons, supervising inspector for the United States Bureau of Marine Inspection, announced a complete investigation of the collision in the fog would be conducted as soon as the survivors reach Boston.

Some were expected to arrive in Boston at 8 a. m. tomorrow, aboard the Eastern Steamship Company liner Evangeline from Yarmouth.

CAPTAIN HINES' STORY

Captain Albert Hines of the Edith C. Rose, and his son, Ted, were among those to reach Yarmouth after rowing 80 miles without food or water. The captain said he was asleep when the crash occurred.

"When I got out, I saw we were sinking fast," he related. "The bow was partly under water. Some of the men were trying to lower a dory. One got away and about 15 men tried to get in it but they all couldn't, and some were forced into the water.

"Four men were trapped below decks by the collision but were able to get free when the Isabelle Parker backed away.

"Le Blanc (Edmund Le Blanc of Wakefield, Mass.) was pinned in his bunk, but we got him out all right. I really didn't think all the men would get off. When they did, I put on a life belt and jumped overboard after Ted did.

7 PICK HIM UP

"I started to swim to the Parker, but I saw she was sinking.

Britain, Turkey in Arms Pact

LONDON, May 12 (AP)—Great Britain added strategic Turkey to her European security lineup today as the two governments pledged aid to each other "in event of an act of aggression leading to war in the Mediterranean area."

The pledges were announced in Commons by Prime Minister Chamberlain pending conclusion of a "definitive long term agreement of reciprocal character in the interest of their national security."

Pending this agreement, the Prime Minister said, "the British government and the Turkish government declare that in the event of an act of aggression leading to war in the Mediterranean area they would be prepared to co-operate effectively and lend each other all aid and assistance in their power."

Turkey is regarded in London as an invaluable ally in event of war largely because of her strategic position in the eastern Mediterranean.

Through the Gordian knot, she holds the key to the Black sea. She also would be in position to come to Britain's aid, if necessary, in Palestine and Egypt.

Simultaneously, Turkish Premier Refik Saydam announced in the national assembly at Ankara that the British-Turkish agreement for mutual assistance in the Mediterranean had been concluded.

UNION WINS COAL STRIKE

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP)—W. L. Robison of Cleveland, chairman of the joint bituminous negotiations committee, announced shortly before noon today the conferees had agreed on a new contract between the United Mine Workers of America (CIO) and the operators of the Appalachian eight-state area. It includes the "union shop."

Robison's announcement as he emerged from the meeting of the sub-committee which reached the agreement included no mention of the "union shop."

CIO DEMANDS MET

As he was talking to reporters, however, Dr. John R. Steelman, conciliator of the U. S. Labor Department, broke in to say the chief of the demands made by John L. Lewis, CIO chairman and president of the UMWA had been agreed to.

It was not indicated immediately how many operators in the Appalachian conference, which covers eight states, would go along with the agreement.

The union shop means that all new employees must join the union within a specified time, although old employees who are non-union are not required to become union members.

SAME PAY PREVAIL

Robison said the joint Appalachian conference of miners and operators would convene later in the day.

Lewis announced yesterday he also had called back the miners' scale committee, which would be asked to ratify any action taken by the subcommittee.

Under the new contract, which would send approximately 346,000 miners back to the soft coal pits next Monday, the same wages and hours which were embodied in the old contract will prevail.

Dan Cupid Scores Hit In Play at Harvard

A wealthy and brilliant young Harvard alumnus took time off from his investment brokerage business in Boston to write a play for one of his alma mater's swank dramatic clubs.

And a charming Brookline girl, already making a name for herself on Broadway as an actress, helped stage and direct the Harvard production.

Result was a social-theatrical romance, revealed today when the Boston Evening American was informed exclusively of heretofore carefully concealed wedding plans.

PLAN PRIVATE WEDDING

A quiet and strictly private marriage ceremony in the chapel of Harvard Church, Brookline, will culminate the real life boy-meets-girl love story.

The bride-to-be is Miss Muriel Williams, 25, of Winthrop road, Brookline. She appeared here in Boston in "Three Men On A Horse," the stage version of "Boy Meets Girl" and other successful comedies.

The prospective bridegroom is Francis Russell Hart, Jr., Harvard '32, now a resident of Hotel Somerset. An investment broker by occupation, he is also part owner of the Dennis summer playhouse on Cape Cod.

Hart is a widower, with two children. They are Francis Russell, 3rd, now 12, and Frederica, nine.

Complete secrecy surrounded filing of marriage intentions by the couple at Boston city hall, May 5. Also kept secret—and withheld from the newspapers—was the issuing of the marriage license, May 10.

MET ON STAGE

Hart, however, told the whole story frankly to the Boston Evening American.

"I first met Miss Williams when she was coaching and directing members of the cast of a Harvard dramatic club offering. I had written the play.

"We found our tastes congenial, our interests similar. It wasn't long before we came to care for each other.

"A Harvard classmate of mine, Philip K. Brown, will stand up with me as the wedding. Miss Williams will be attended by her sister, Mrs. Cleveland Gilchrist. "Dr. Ashley Leavitt of Harvard Church will perform the ceremony. Only close friends and relatives will be present."

STORK IN HURRY

Proving that police officers are equal to all emergencies, Sergeant Joseph W. McCleary of the Boston special service squad today "officiated" at the birth of a baby girl in the South End.

McCleary with other members of the squad raced to an East Newton street rooming house when they received a radio message that a woman was screaming for an ambulance.

They found the patient alone in her room and in immediate need of a doctor. Before a City Hospital ambulance and surgeon had time to arrive, Sergeant McCleary saw he would have to help out the stork.

The officers used their flashlights for illumination as the 29-year-old woman's seven-pound daughter was born. The sergeant's first assistant, incidentally, was Patrolman Peter Donnelly, only bachelor of the squad.

Mother and daughter were taken to the hospital, where both were pronounced "doing fine." Ten minutes later, Sergeant McCleary and his squad were called to the home of Mrs. Bertha Freeman, Hammond street, South End, another expectant mother.

Freed 'Mercy Slayer' to Adopt Son

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP)—Louis Greenfield, acquitted "mercy killer" of his 16-year-old imbecile son, Jerome, planned a new life today for himself, his wife and probably an adopted son to take the place of the boy he "loved more than anyone."

Freed yesterday of a manslaughter charge by a jury of married men and women who deliberated only four hours, the one-time prosperous milliner, taut and pallid-faced, fell into a chair and sobbed as the verdict was announced.

His wife, barred with other relatives from the courtroom, paced a corridor outside. She too wept when the news was given to her.

"Mrs. Greenfield and I are planning to adopt a child about two or three years old to take his (Jerome's) place just as soon as we establish our new home," Greenfield said, "but first we are going away for a short rest. 'I'm thankful to justice,'" he continued, "Justice has been vindicated, but I can't be happy. After all, I loved Jerry more than anyone in the world."

During his trial, Greenfield, 45, testified he chloroformed his son on January 12 after "voices" had told him, "stop his suffering, stop his suffering, it is the will of God."

FREED, LOUIS GREENFIELD EMBRACES WIFE

DIVORCES MOTHER OF 6 WON BY RIVAL

After 21 years of happy married life, his wife was won away from him by a "dapper auto mechanic with a British accent," Herbert L. Lawrence, Roslindale gasoline station proprietor, testified today in Suffolk Probate Court.

He won an uncontested divorce on grounds of unfaithfulness.

Lawrence told the court his wife and he have recently been living in the same house, but in separate apartments.

He first learned of her alleged infidelity in 1939, he said. They were married in 1909.

They have six children. A Brighton high school romance which was culminated by a secret marriage in 1936 came to a drab end in the same court.

Pretty, 20-year-old Mrs. Kathryn Bradbury of Channing road, Belmont, was awarded an uncontested divorce from Roland E. Bradbury, Boston. She charged cruelty.

According to her testimony, she doped with young Bradbury while still a school student.

Her disillusionment came, she said, two years later when her parents learned of the marriage.

She then went back home to her parents, according to her story, and was "shamed and humiliated" by efforts her husband made to obtain entry to the house.

He threw stones through windows and once strappled with her father, she said.

She further testified her husband slapped her and threatened to kill her.

Yankee Handshake Awaits King, Queen

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—The minute fraction of the nation's population which actually will meet the King and Queen of Great Britain here next month is getting ready for good old American handshakes.

For weeks these men and women have been baited back and forth between the curtsy-or-don't, bow-or-faint schools of thought. The final consensus is that, being Americans, they will act as Americans usually do at White House and other formal functions.

Officials point out that President and Mrs. Roosevelt will be standing in line with the King and Queen when most of their big moments come. And Americans have been shaking their Presidents' hands for years. Some bow slightly, others don't.

The best guess here is that very few women—except the wives of foreign diplomats and English citizens—will curtsy at the White House. At the British embassy bows and curties will be a matter of choice.

Icebergs Slow Up King George's Ship

ABOARD EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA, May 12 (Canadian Press)—This liner poked cautiously through mist in the icebergs region of the North Atlantic today at speeds ranging from 18 down to five knots, again slowing the voyage of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, on their way to Canada and the United States.

The ship, forced by heavy fog to drift idly for 24 hours, got under way again at 6:15 a. m. but made little more than 18 knots in the first three hours.

The royal party awoken to hear the ship's siren giving long, single blasts every two minutes. The liner receives radio reports of the exact whereabouts of icebergs.

HOSPITAL DAY—Nurses of the New England Sanitarium attend flag raising ceremony on hospital grounds in observance of National Hospital Day. Purpose of today's observance is to honor the men and women who devote their lives to the care of the sick.

National Hospital Day Observed

National Hospital Day was observed today with special ceremonies at Boston City Hospital, Children's Hospital, Chelsea Veterans' Hospital and the U. S. Veterans' Hospital at Rutland Heights.

Mrs. Gertrude A. O'Keefe, president of Worcester County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, was head of the committee at Rutland.

May 12 was selected as hospital day because it is the birthday of Florence Nightingale, who, more than any other person, dramatized the nursing profession and made it universally respected.

Purpose behind the celebration, usually conducted by laymen, frequently by ex-soldiers, is to honor the men and women who devote their lives to the care of the sick.

FOSTER ADVISER TO TOBIN

Leo T. Foster, recent head of the department of mathematics at Jeremiah E. Burke High School for Girls, Roxbury, was revealed today as Mayor Tobin's new financial adviser and municipal efficiency expert.

Foster's formal appointment as chairman of the Boston city survey board was announced by the mayor, who characterized him as "one of the outstanding U. S. authorities on taxation and economics."

The mayor also called Foster "one of the most brilliant men in the Boston public school service."

ON LEAVE OF ABSENCE

The school committee has voted Foster a two-year leave of absence from his high school faculty post.

He will succeed former City Survey Board Chairman Richard Whitcomb, who resigned to seek the Republican nomination for governor.

Whitcomb organized the board to promote efficient handling of municipal finances. When he left, he turned control over to Acting Chairman Fred Monowicz.

Foster was graduated from Holy Cross in 1912. He spent the next four years in special study of economics and finance at Harvard, Boston University, Bardett College and Holy Cross, taking his master's degree at Holy Cross in 1915.

SERVED AS TAX EXPERT

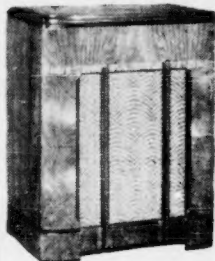

During 1920 and 1921, he was employed as taxation expert for the United States Internal Revenue Department.

He entered the Boston school service in 1921. He and Mayor Tobin met when Tobin was taking a course in accounting and finance at Boston College. Foster was a part-time instructor there.

Foster's home is in Reardon road, West Roxbury. He has two children, a daughter, Catherine, 23, a Radcliffe College graduate, and a son, Richard, 15, a Holy Cross sophomore.

Woman Witness Drops Dead in Court

Waiting to testify as a government witness against a number of defendants accused of violating the state narcotic drug law, a Cambridge woman dropped dead in East Cambridge Court today.

She was Mrs. Annie Sarachini, 53, of Harvard place.

Her collapse occurred just as Judge Arthur P. Stone was about to open the court session.

Seated among the spectators, Mrs. Sarachini suddenly slumped forward, then toppled to the floor. Attaches carried her to an anti-room and tried in vain to revive her. Taken to Cambridge City Hospital, she was pronounced dead on arrival.

Although under summons to testify for the government, Mrs. Sarachini had not yet been called.

F. D. WOULD KILL PROFITS TAX---IF

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he would favor repeal of the undistributed profits tax provided some other method was found to prevent what he called legal tax evasion by the wealthy.

In a lengthy discussion of taxes at a press conference, the President emphasized again his contention that in place of any corporation levies repealed there would have to be found substitute taxes to bring in the same amount of revenue.

He said the Treasury would submit to congressional committees results of its tax studies but that they would not necessarily be in the form of recommendations.

WAR CASH DRAFT O.K'D

Mr. Roosevelt said those who have been clamoring for removal of deterrents to business in the tax structure had failed to point out how to raise the revenue that would be lost.

The Senate military committee, meanwhile, approved by a 12 to 2 vote a bill by Senator Lee (D) of Oklahoma, to draft money in wartime by forcing citizens with a net worth of $1000 or more to buy 50-year government 1 per cent bonds.

The action came after Senator Bridges (R) of New Hampshire had challenged action by the committee last week in approving the measure unanimously at a meeting at which a quorum of the 17 committee members was not present.

Bridges and Senator Gurney (R) of South Dakota voted against the bill today.

The measure would provide that persons with a net worth of $1000 must invest five per cent of their holdings in government bonds in war time, the percentage of investment would increase to 75 per cent for very wealthy persons.

TAX DISCUSSION

The President got into the tax discussion after he had been asked about his recent conferences with treasury and congressional leaders.

Asked whether he favored a revision of the corporate income taxes, some of which expire this year, the President said that brought up a large question.

He said Congressional committee would have to work out the matter.

BACKUS TO ASK OUSTER CHARGES BE DISMISSED

Motion for dismissal of charges will be the opening move of the defense when the Public Utilities Commission resumes on Monday its hearing in the case of John H. Backus, director of the state "Blue Sky" division.

Attorney Joseph P. Scapone, counsel for Backus, made this announcement today after all the evidence against Backus had been offered, climaxing with the surprise testimony of Lester Smith, Boston financial reporter.

Smith produced shorthand notes he took up testimony that Backus had not used words charged to him in referring to a recommendation of Governor Saltonstall.

The witness further testified that he had read his notes to the governor.

During one of the heated exchanges between his counsel and members of the commission, Backus leaped to his feet, shouting an offer to resign, if Gov. Saltonstall agreed to protect the jobs of the rest of the department.

"I'll resign right now," Backus said, "if Gov. Saltonstall will promise to retain the personnel of my office. I made this offer to the governor before and I repeat it now."

Governor Saltonstall's office said that until the hearing is over the governor would make "no comment" on Backus' offer to quit his position.

Man Dies, 17 Saved In Providence Fire

PROVIDENCE, May 12—One man perished in flames, three others were carried to safety and 13 men and a woman fled to the street as fire swept the rear of a rooming house in Friendship street today.

The dead man was tentatively identified by police as Sigmund Erickson, 43, the only occupant of the burned building reported missing after the fire was put out.

The body was found in a first floor room, burned beyond recognition. Erickson was employed by a local machine factory, and police were to check there in attempting to establish the dead man's identity.

Patrolman Gerald Campbell, who discovered the fire, and Patrolman John Contracki pulled Charles Goff, 48, to safety through a window of his basement room. Firemen carried Charles Wilson, 81, down a ladder from the third floor and rescued William Higgins, 51, by ladder from the second floor.

Hoseman Thomas O'McLaughlin received severe cuts on the right wrist while battling the flames, which raced up the wooden building from a first story hallway to the third floor and roof.

Proprietor of the burned house is William A. Delaney, father of Joe Delaney, former All-American tackle on the Holy Cross football team, and of the Rev. William A. Delaney, diocesan director of the Catholic Youth Organization of Rhode Island. He escaped uninjured.

Damage was estimated at $3500. Cause was undetermined.

65, He Drops Aid Plea; Ma, 88, To Support Him

DES MOINES, Ia., May 12 (AP)—Delving through thousands of Iowa old age pension cases would be sheer boredom for welfare board employees without such situations as these:

A 65-year-old applicant withdrew his application for a pension "because his mother is able and willing to support him. The mother is 88 years old."

Another applicant's family boasts a wide age range. He has one son 46 years old, another 19 months of age.

Still another applicant, 74 years old, has eight children under 13.

HUNT 8 CHICAGO FIRE DEAD

CHICAGO, May 12 (AP)—An explosion of grain dust—fine particles of corn, rye and wheat—was cited today as the probable cause of the blast and fire that leveled five grain elevators on Chicago's South Side yesterday.

Meanwhile, searchers poked through the smoking debris for traces of eight men believed to have perished in the city's worst fire in five years. Twenty-three men, including 18 firemen, were injured.

Throughout the night firemen played streams of water over the smoldering ruins at 1023 street and the Calumet river. Some 400 firemen fought the fierce flames for more than five hours before the blaze was brought under control.

Most estimates placed the loss at $1,000,000. Market traders estimated a loss in excess of $2,000,000 to the millions of bushels of grain stored in the elevators.

Several fire prevention experts expressed the theory that a dust explosion caused the disaster. They left convention sessions of the National Fire Protective Association to visit the fire scene.

The first blast ripped away the roof and tore the sides asunder. Successive blasts in other elevators showered firemen and workmen with bricks, wood, pieces of corrugated iron and blazing grain.

Tobins Leave Sunday For New York Visit

Mayor and Mrs. Tobin will leave Boston Sunday to attend the conference of U. S. mayors in New York next week. It was announced yesterday. More than 200 of the country's larger cities will be represented. Some time during the three-day conference the delegates and their wives will attend the World's Fair.

AUTO VICTIM IDENTIFIED

The man killed in an automobile accident at Broadway and Harrison ave. yesterday was identified today as Henry J. Baumgart, 51, Halloworth st., Cambridge.

BIGGER-BETTER

HOW COME?

"More men wear
Bond Clothes
than any other clothes in America"

It happens like this. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are window shopping. Mr. Jones needs clothes. Bond's display catches their eye. Says Mr. Jones, "These look like expensive suits." Says the Mrs., "They do, but just look at those prices." So in they go, both thinking "how come so much for so little?" And the salesman tells how all Bond Clothes are made in Bond's own plants. And how this keeps Bond prices down by cutting out third-party profits. Which is something very few clothiers can say. Mr. Jones likes the way the clothes fit. Mrs. Jones recognizes superior woolen quality. The salesman flashes that extra pair of trousers*—at no extra cost. And it's all over. This has been going on for 31 years. Do you wonder more men wear Bond Clothes than any other clothes in America? Even more important, they keep on repeating year after year. Just as you will, after your first taste of Bond quality. How about starting today or tomorrow?

GERMANS 'MOVE IN' ON DANZIG

WARSAW, May 12 (AP)—The Nationalist newspaper Wlczosk Warszawa today reported large numbers of Germans in civilian clothes, but "obviously organized," were moving from Germany into Danzig, free city which Germany wants back.

The city's population has been increased already by approximately 30,000 Germans, mostly storm troopers and members of the black-shirt units, the newspaper said, terming this "an invasion of armed squads."

Reports from Danzig said the fourth anniversary of Marshal Pilsudski's death passed almost without notice today. Authorities banned a memorial meeting on the grounds that application for permission was made too late.

Some thought the ban was in reprisal for a recent Polish order forbidding a Catholic procession from Danzig to Poland.

Mighty Pacific Fleet Back in Home Ports

SAN PEDRO, Cal., May 12 (AP)—The navy's mighty Pacific fleet neared its bases here and at San Diego today, back from four months' maneuvers in the Atlantic. Admiral Claude C. Bloch, aboard the flagship Pennsylvania, radioed that the first of 20 battleships and cruisers expected to drop anchor a few hours after daylight. Immediate shore leave will be given most of the vessels' 25,000 men.

Yugoslavia Prince Received by Pope

VATICAN CITY, May 12 (AP)—Pope Pius XII received Regent Prince Paul and Princess Olga of Yugoslavia in his Vatican apartment.

British-French Bloc Stronger; Anglo-Turkish Pact Declared

By Associated Press

British Prime Minister Chamberlain announced today that Great Britain and Turkey had declared they would issue a joint statement in the event of war in the Mediterranean area arising from an act of aggression.

Chamberlain said that the agreement would be issued as a definite pact was signed between the British government and the Turkish government. He said that the agreement was a result of the close friendship between the two countries and that it was a pledge of mutual support and solidarity.

Billion a Month For Armaments

BASEL, May 12 (AP)—The Bank for International Settlements estimated today that the world is spending $1,000,000,000 a month on armaments. The bank resume said the cost of war implements during 1938 had increased six times that of 1934.

Citing Great Britain's 1938-1939 defense budget of at least $2,500,000,000, the bank said that it represented 14 per cent of the national income.

BRITAIN-FRANCE CHIEFED

France and Britain have agreed to issue a joint statement in the event of war in the Mediterranean area arising from an act of aggression.

Chamberlain said that the agreement was a result of the close friendship between the two countries and that it was a pledge of mutual support and solidarity.

Puerto Rican Post for Leahy

MARTIN STIRS ROW OVER WPA

Charles Martin, former Mayor of Boston, stirred a row today in Washington when he charged that the Federal Works Administration was "stealing" jobs from the private sector.

Martin, whose name is on the list of those who were "blacklisted" by the Federal Works Administration, said that he had been "blacklisted" because he had been a member of the Federal Works Administration.

TELEPHONE FIRINGS, RAISES

"Hundreds of needy men and women, heads of families," Martin claimed, "were thrown off the WPA rolls on the grounds that there wasn't money enough to employ them."

"But in the meantime money was found to raise the pay of at least 24 who received promotions in the executive service."

Every single promotion made in the administrative service of the Massachusetts WPA, Martin said, had been "blacklisted" on the grounds that there wasn't money enough to employ them.

PERSONNEL SLASHED

The promotions, Martin said, had been "blacklisted" on the grounds that there wasn't money enough to employ them. He said that the Federal Works Administration had "blacklisted" the personnel of the Federal Works Administration.

"In nine out of 10 cases," said Martin, "the promotions were made necessary by resignations. In some instances a resignation would involve the shifting of four or five persons."

Raps Politics In Judgeships

Thomas Earl Powell, Jr., professor of law at Harvard University, said today that he was "blacklisted" by the Federal Works Administration.

"I was 'blacklisted' by the Federal Works Administration," Powell said. "I was 'blacklisted' by the Federal Works Administration."

"The appointments may turn out to be able and independent judges, but the system can hardly be said to be a contributing factor toward any such happy result," he said.

He suggested that the President to free himself of the "blacklist" of senatorial courtesy would be to refer the appointments to the Senate.

Grief Turns to Joy For 2 Sea Women

To the men of the sea belong the hardships and the dangers, but to women the hardest part of a sailor's life is waiting for word of husband and loved ones when tragedy strikes on the waters.

Today that hardship and danger is a joy for two women who waited before they would set foot on land again after their husbands' deaths.

They are Miss Anna H. West, wife of Capt. A. H. Hines, and Miss Wilfred Hines, wife of Capt. W. H. Hines.

ALL THREE RESCUED.
Mr. Hines' husband, Capt. A. H. Hines, and his wife, Miss West, were on the ship "The Hines" when it was wrecked off the coast of Maine. The ship was carrying a cargo of lumber and was bound for Boston.

THEIR OTHER AGONIES.
The other mother was the first time of waiting through a long night waiting for word from a son and daughter. Miss Hines' son, in the morning of the morning, when the ship was wrecked, and her husband narrowly escaped with his life from the wreckage of the ship, who were on the ship for 20 hours in the first days.

Ship Rescue Told by Survivors

Tales of suffering and heart-breaking parted from the lips of survivors as Coast Guard craft today started the search for missing crew members of the sunken Boston schooner Isabella Parker and Larch C. Rose.

The damaged schooner picked up two dories and brought to Yarmouth, N. S., for medical care, graphically told of the early morning crash and hardships that followed.

Most heart-breaking of all was the failure of a ship to sight them after 29 hours of rowing in a dory, Charles LeBlanc of Revere told of it.

"A big freighter steamed past us only a mile away as we were struggling to make land," LeBlanc said.

"We huddled as loud as we could but they didn't hear us. It was a heart-breaker. The only thing we could do, though, was push on. But then an hour later we were sighted by a lobster boat and taken aboard."

"I think the other missing men will be found all right. But not at night. They have no flares. There wasn't time to get any before the dories were put off from the sinking schooner. I don't believe they even have compasses."

The suddenness of the crash was told by Frank Hubbard, engineer of the schooner.

"I was in the cabin with Capt. Albert Hines when the vessel collided. I ran to the engine room. Capt. Hines went up on deck. He shouted down to me to stop the engines. I did."

"Then I joined him on deck. We were sinking fast and the deck was almost on a level with the sea. We got one boat launched. Then we launched the second."

"Capt. Hines put on a life preserver and ordered those of us on deck into the boat. We got into the first boat. He got into the second and was the last to leave the ship. We had hardly pushed off before we became separated in the fog. That was the last I saw of him."

PADDLES AWAY IN TUB

William Rose, seaman on the Larch C. Rose, who can not swim a stroke, paddled away from the sinking ship in a dress tub for cleaning fish.

Then his makeshift boat was captured by a shipmate, but he was picked up in a dory.

"I heard a crash and was soaking wet before I could get out of my bunk," he said. "That's how fast the water came in."

"I had my pants on, but otherwise wasn't dressed. Some of our crew were wearing only the quilts under which they slept."

"I threw a dress tub overboard and got into it. My dorymate, Marc Sinek, was in the water. He swam over to me."

"When he grabbed hold of the tub it went over and chucked me overboard. Good it was cold... And I can't swim a stroke."

"I managed to stay afloat and paddled over to the ship. The deck was so low I just pulled onto it, right away. Then we lowered a dory and got into it."

On board was Tom Bowdridge, Frank Hubbard and someone else. We rowed over to the Parker to see if we could find some dry clothes. But we couldn't find any."

SAW LIFELINE PASS BY

"When I tried to get back to my dory I couldn't find it. So I got into another one with Ambrose Duncette and Fred Bourque. We shoved off and a few feet away we watched both boats go down."

"Then we hoisted sail, got out the oars and began rowing for Yarmouth. We didn't stop rowing until we were picked up over 36 hours later."

Fred A. Bourque of Hubbard's Point N. S. saved from the Isabella Parker, told a graphic story of his escape.

"I was standing in the bow on watch when the collision occurred," he said. "I would say it was about 5:30 a. m."

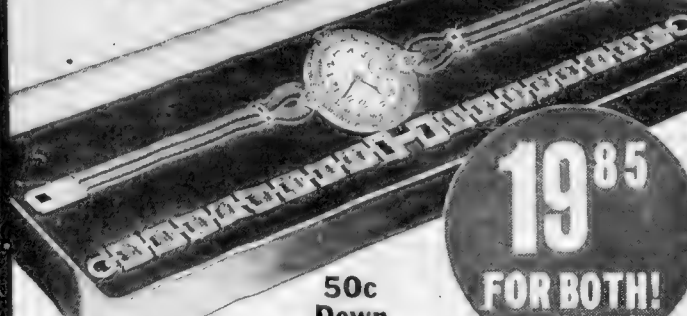

"I could see that the collision was inevitable, so I jumped clear, just in time to avoid being crushed."

"The Parker's prow struck us on the starboard bow and cut the Rose nearly in two. With the exception of Billy Gilliam and Tom Perry, the entire crew were in the bunks. I ran below but there was no need of waking anybody, the crash had done that."

"I found Frank Nickerson's body at the foot of the fore-castle stairs in nearly a foot of water. With the help of other members of the crew we carried him on deck and saw that he was dead. I think he died from a heart attack. We placed his body in a dory and grabbed a few belongings and set sail in dories, abandoning the doomed ship."

Sen. Reynolds

That will live in the hearts of the people and in their representative Congress of the United States.

STRESSES NEUTRALITY

As Mr. Lally urges in his editorial and reasoned speech only three things are necessary to keep us out of Europe and its perpetual blood struggles.

1.—Absolute neutrality as outlined by John Hay (Secretary of State under President Theodore Roosevelt).

2.—The war making power must never slip from the hands of Congress.

3.—The will of the people must always be ascertained, even by Congress, before we ever embark on a foreign war.

The destiny of the American people shall never pass into French, English or Russian hands.

"It must remain in the hands and hearts of our own people, who have repeatedly said: 'Isolation yes, defense yes, but no participation in foreign wars.'"

"I never vote to send an American boy to another foreign war."

SEN. REYNOLDS

Why don't they pay us the twenty billion dollars war debts they owe us?"

The editor brands the United States' tax in Europe.

Editorialism in the practices of dictators. I have proved with facts in determining the future of the world, the nations, such as Germany, Italy and Japan.

But I must first see the United States is not a part of the battle of Europe, unless we are attacked.

The German press can get out their own speech that says that the United States is a part of the battle of Europe, unless we are attacked.

Beauty No Handicap In Government Jobs

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—Senator E. A. Tamm, of Iowa, who has been making an official study of such things as salary, that when beauty and brains claim in competition over a government job beauty must frequently win.

The deputy form of an ink—this senator recorded a few more observations, helping a girl get a good job than an older woman twice of the same kind, making her need a representative of the nation.

Senator Tamm has been making an official study of such things as salary, that when beauty and brains claim in competition over a government job beauty must frequently win. They remained in lowly jobs while their position changed, on based promotions. From some of his own trying to find out how far from the point of view of a woman's position, that would make her the standard of employment and promotion.

This problem he said, is complicated by the fact that such government officials are paid. It is an excellent thing, he added, that men like pretty girls better than their unattractive sisters.

In somewhat the same spirit as Representative Treadway recently introduced a resolution for an audit of the results of the Hull reciprocal trade agreements, a member of the opposition in the British House of Commons recently sought information concerning the fruits of the recent British-American pact.

Referring to the results of the London Times in its report on engineering equipment exports, it reports:

"There was general agreement with Mr. Oliver Stanley's reply to a member of the opposition front bench. . . . That in view of the short time which had elapsed since the agreement came into force it was too early to draw any definite conclusions from the statistics at present available.

"Mr. Stanley was able to say, nevertheless, that there were already signs of a considerable expansion in exports of United Kingdom goods to the United States. The increase in the first two months of this year as compared with the same period of 1938 exceed £1,000,000.

"On the other hand, imports from the United States showed a substantial decline, but it had to be remembered that imports from that source were at a peak level last year.

"One swallow does not make a summer. Instead of increased examination of the facts, there should be comprehensive auditing along the lines of the Treadway resolution.

"Meanwhile, the inquiry as to whether the British pact was beneficial would have to add beneficial for whom? The initial results have helped the British, but not American workers and farmers.

"In the first quarter the total British trade position vis-a-vis the rest of the world was improved.

Austen Lake: Baseball to Make A Mystery Mission

THE MODERN REVIVAL OF THE OLYMPICS at Finland next year has extended the type of contests beyond the original conceptions of the Greek founders, who would have had the wonder.

There are a lot of good sports too which mystify even the sportsman of average vision. One of these, which will be on the Finnish Olympic programme, is canoeing, which Americans have little notion of. It is a foreign game imported to this country by hyphenates, just as basketball is a U. S. game carried abroad by our emigrants.

The French Suspected Our Sanity

ACCORDING TO PRESIDENT WILKINS, the American League, the U. S. Olympic team will again carry two complete teams of baseball players to Helsinki, with equipment and a professional league umpire. They will play a round of sample games before the Finns. But I question that the Finns will play more than a couple of innings, any more than the French peasants stayed to watch our soldiers play "football" in the converted cow pastures behind the lines during the World War.

Urge Sportsmen To Help Program Of Conservation

By DARK MONTREL

Massachusetts Fish and Game Association formally launched its Wildlife Conservation program with a dinner for 200 workers at Hotel Sheraton last night. Every bona fide sportsman in the state is asked to join the drive, and this column urges 100 per cent participation. If you are not contacted, write the association at the Museum of Comparative Zoology, in Cambridge.

There are many kinds of birds breeding around here, and during the month of May there is an excellent chance for them to be seen. If you are a sportsman, you will have a chance to see them in their natural haunts.

New Haven railroad on Sunday will run a salt water fishing train, steamer trip to Martha's Vineyard. Thus the New Haven matches the Boston & Maine, whose salt water fishing party is heading down east today. The New Haven special, first attempt, is likely to become a regular weekend affair as the Cape Cod surf angling improves.

Weekend anglers will find the fishing good, and the weather will be just what is needed to make the trip a success. The New Haven special, first attempt, is likely to become a regular weekend affair as the Cape Cod surf angling improves.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

P. B. Belmont—I think you're right. The black bass are coming onto the shoals for spawning and too many of them are being roughly handled before being returned to the water. Every angler should know that there is a way to hold a bass without harming it. The right way is holding it between thumb and forefinger by the lower jaw, with the thumb in the mouth. It can't wiggle a muscle, so hold.

GEORGE MASON—Good old Yale have this season. I have a few more to add to the list. I have a few more to add to the list. I have a few more to add to the list.

Piscar, Melrose—Stripers will take the feather, all right, but for river trolling for school fish give me the spoon every time—and a sand worm behind it.

W. L. Houghton—Others have had similar experience in using far ahead trout fishing, and are successfully catching reports of good catches come to hand. By the way, I have a few more to add to the list. I have a few more to add to the list.

That Hathaway, Wareham—Yeah! I never forget. And how about you and Laurie Washburn and the Bryant boys and Kenning and myself getting together for another whack at the tautog?

Old note, Dark Montrel will have a special column on standard bass fishing in the Boston-Saturday Advertiser's column.

Harvard Stars "Goggled-Eyed"

5 Coaches Expect Crimson Victories

FLOYD STAHL, the Harvard baseball coach, says his batters are "goggled-eyed" as a result of studying nights for examinations.

Jaako Mikkola, Crimson track coach, recognizes modern slang by announcing that the Harvard-Yale track meet at New Haven on Saturday isn't "in the bag" for his team. He says the fact Harvard won from Dartmouth so decisively does not necessarily mean it will have an easy time with Yale.

There was a time when Harvard's strong hockey team most seasons because the fact it will lose many games. They played and Bill Hingham, coach of the Crimson, says with the options of the Yale team, Harvard athletes are quite pleased at all the time speeches at the annual luncheon of the Harvard Varsity Club in Cambridge.

Frank Bryan, a famous horse racing handicapper, has returned to Suffolk Downs. ...the first ball club was the Knickerbockers of New York, established in 1842 among the young social blonds and maintained exclusively as the Corinthian Yacht Club at Marblehead in the present day. Old Mr. Al Spalding, in tracing the history of the game, said the Knickerbockers were a pretty amiable set who liked to play the game better than awkwardly but preferred playing among themselves rather than with unregistered vulgarities of other clubs which began springing up in 1850.

THE POINT IS THAT BASE-BALL ASSAULTED A National idea in the middle of the 19th century and expanded its various stages into a big business with professional teams sprinkled all over the country. The vacant lots are built up now. Movies, radio, the automobile, golf and a dozen accessible diversions have turned the country's kids to other channels so that an American Legion survey recently showed that boys are playing ball in a declining ratio of 1 to 5 compared with twenty years ago.

Because what professional baseball does is to take the time and money in being starved for money, the youth of the nation is turning to other sports. Every major league team has a large staff of scouts covering the bushes. And now the college boys are finding the college expenses of several student athletes in the playing field. One day they will be ripe for harvest.

Sonnenberg Beats Numa

Leo Sonnenberg, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, scored a best two out of three fall victory over Leo Numa of California in the first of a four-day boxing tournament at the Pimlico track today.

Climbing Dodgers Here for 3 Games blow up when opportunity knocked. A year ago the Red Sox were thinking in the terms of Wyatt but finally got themselves Heving and Harris instead.

Another reason in the comeback of Van Lingle Mungo, he turned in a credible performance in pinning the Reds on Thursday. Mungo didn't account for much last year. The Dodgers have a fair pitcher, too, in the person of Pitcher Russ Evans, who relieved Mungo in the final Brooklyn game.

Evans pitched the opening game for the Dodgers against the Giants but had his ears pinned back. He came back later and lost a heart-breaking 1-0 decision to Bob Weiland of the Cardinals.

Perhaps the new Brooklyn brain trust may have something, too, to do with the new Dodgers surge of winning power.

There's quite a battery of experts aiding Durocher in Lazzeri, Killifer and Dresden. Between them all they've got the team playing better than it thought possible.

The Bees go into today's battle after breaking even with the Cubs.

BEES REFUSED

They lost the finale, 6 to 2, on a combination of circumstances which included carelessness, sloppiness, sour headwork and several really bad breaks.

While Jim Turner was touched freely, the Chicagoans getting to him for 14 hits, he kept them well scattered and gave up only three runs going into the ninth inning.

In the meanwhile the Bees got 12 hits and with this mighty abundance were able to fashion only two tallies.

The turning point was one when coast Stengel mass headaches.

MILLER STARTS RALLY

Edgie Miller opened the fifth inning with a single to center. Elbie Fletcher lashed a hit just fair and down the right field foul line.

Miller rounded third but was called back by Coach Mike Kelly, who, with none out, figured it bad judgment to take a chance at making home on the relayed throw with Gleason in right field.

who knocked off the St. Louis Browns.

It was rank injustice for Woody Rich to drop the decision, just as it would have been had Lyons been on the small end. Both pitched superbly, Rich giving up only three hits for the seven innings he worked before giving way to Pinch Hitter Lou Finney in the eighth.

Denny Galehouse hurled the final frame and was touched up for a double by Walker the first man up, a blow which eventuated into the winning run.

The Sox thereby went into the ninth trailing 3 to 1 but made up only one of them, that by Jimmy Foss with his fifth homer of the season.

Hockey Magnates Invade Boston

Owners and governors of the National Hockey League started their today's annual meeting in Boston today. There was an owners' meeting at the Copley-Plaza this morning, and the annual meeting will be called at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The owners and governors were to play golf at Charles River Country Club this afternoon for the "Governors' Trophy," and tonight they will be dinner guests of Weston Adams, president of the Bruins, at the Harvard Club.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press
Chiff Melton, Giants—Held Fireballs to four hits in firing New York out of the National League cellar.

Dick Camilli, Dodgers—His fifth home run of season with one on to lead Reds.

Al Mihal, Indians—Shut out Athletics on five hits.

Charley Keller, Yankees—Tripled with bases loaded to get New York off to big lead against Braves.

Red Lyons, White Sox—Scattered five hits to beat Red Sox.

Joe Haynes, Senators—His seven hit pitching job enabled Washington to beat Tigers, 4-2.

But Hornum, Cubs—Tripled with bases filled in sixth inning to overturn Reds.

STAR OF SEA FACES ST. AUGUSTINE NINE IN PARK FEATURE

The Boston Park League winds up the first week of the 1939 campaign tonight with four games carded in the after-supper circuit.

Star of the Sea, after defeating Murphy Club of Brighton at East Boston last night, goes to South Boston Stadium to engage the unbeaten St. Augustine Club.

Rowers on the hill for the Noddie Islanders, allowed Murphys two hits, while Joe Unkunski, flinging for Bill Benson's brigade, set down St. Catherine's, 6-2, with two hits at Charlestown.

St. Catherine's make their first visit to Fallon Field in a game with the Holy Name Club, while Dick Casey's Club, which edged Holy Name, 4-3, last night, goes to Barry Playground as guests of the Navy Yard A. A.

St. Alphonsus is away from home at Rogers Park in Brighton for an encounter with the Murphy Club and the Murphys following last night's defeat by Star of the Sea, will probably pitch Paul Green, who made a sensational debut in the Twilight loop on Tuesday with a no-hit, no-run pitching job against St. Catherine's.

Idle tonight are Rosindale Town Club and South Boston Town Team, both of whom have met different fortunes in the first week of play: Jerry Sullivan's record homer at Healy Field last night with three on deck won for the Townies at the expense of Navy Yard, while Southie wound up the week with three losses and one win.

Di Maggio to Start Hitting Tomorrow

By the Associated Press

The longest hitters of baseball and golf—Babe Ruth and Jimmy Thomson—are touring the Long Island courses together these days.

Doctors have told Joe DiMaggio he can start hitting a few tomorrow . . . Joe Louis is due today or tomorrow to sign a new contract with the Detroit Tigers . . . Al Watson, Detroit, is expected to play in the national open, was under par on four of his last five rounds . . . Pittsburgh is sending a special train-load of rooters to tonight's Billy Conn-Solly Krieger fight in New York.

Joe DiMaggio

Football showed a deficit at the University of Oregon last season . . . Basketball came up with a net profit of $17,000 . . . What do you make of that one, Watson?

News of Jimmy Slattery's come-back brought only a gasp from his home town friends in Buffalo . . . Miami's $10,000 open will be played earlier this year so the visiting British Ryder Cup players will have a chance to shoot for the Yams . . . Unofficial baseball traders again have Lew Riggs headed for the Polo Grounds to replace Mel Ott, who is missing up too many grounders around third . . . Tony Canzonero vs. Nick Camarata at New Orleans, May 15, looks like a sellout.

Warner Bros. should rush scouts to look over Tom Monahan, athletic director of the Bristol (Conn.) high school, if they want to find a dead ringer for the late Knute Rockne.

Dedham Poloists Play Harvard Tomorrow

Dedham Country and Polo Club's hard-riding malletmen, victorious over Harvard last week-end, will take on the Crimson four again tomorrow afternoon, at 3. The match has been shifted from the regular club field, scene of the season's opener, to the private field on W. Cameron Forbes' Gay Farm estate at Westwood.

Harvard's intercollegiate outdoor championship outfit will be up against stiffer competition than in the tilt dropped by a 10-5 score. Three former Crimson stars, "Big Tim" Clark, Tommy Davis and Paul Fox, have been invited to ride for Dedham.

America's oldest active poloist, 68-year-old "Governor" Forbes, who played an outstanding game last week, scoring a brace of goals, will be a sure starter, with Bob Almy, Dedham's polo chairman, riding at back as usual. Dudley Miliken, John (Slim) Walsh, Leo Boyle, William Danforth, Jr. and Allan Forbes, Jr., are other Dedham players available.

Major Chester Sargent will put a much-improved Harvard team onto the field. Captain R. Bennett Forbes, Gaylord Dillingham and Jack Lewis will be the mainstays, with Gordon Schall the likely fourth starter.

CHICAGO, May 12 (AP)—Amateur ring stars from five European nations battle eight Golden Glove boxers, survivors of a field of 25,000, in the eighth annual international tournament tonight with the insiders determined to triumph for the first time since the series began in 1931.

Wilson Clicks With 5 Winners

Five more winners for the King of Handicappers, including the daily double!

Dave Wilson, well on the lead of his rivals at Narragansett Park, continued to draw away as he came up with another of his customary brilliant cards, picking five out of eight winners, yesterday.

Shyno, Dave's selection in the first race returned $5.00. Ramrod in the second paid off $6.30.

The pair combined in the daily double was worth $14.90. My Day, in the fourth, gave Wilson followers $8.60. Slap Jack in the seventh paid the neat price of $8.40 to win. In the nightcap, Galloping, Dave's top horse won and paid $6.30.

A flat bet on all of Wilson's top horses including the daily double would show a profit of $31.70!

N. L. Trades Seen As Pilots Prepare To Trim Rosters

By the Associated Press

This is inventory time in the major leagues. Completion of the season's first interseasonal straining not only gave all the clubs a shakedown of their own strength against all the other clubs—it brought them to the place where they must do something about it, if they ever intend to.

In another week rosters must be reduced to 25 players, and in another month the bars will go up against trading except by the usually impracticable waiver route.

This accounts for the almost daily shunting of players to the minors and the chumminess of club executives such as brought a fine for fraternizing a few days ago to Managers Terry of the Giants and Blades of the Cardinals.

CAMILLI DOES IT

The National League is bunched under a blanket smaller than even the experts foresaw, and procurement of a pitcher here, an outfielder there, on an infielder somewhere else may conceivably settle the pennant.

A mere three games separate the first-place Cardinals from the last place Phillies, and the shuffling of the standings during the western clubs' invasion of the East demonstrated the league's even balance. The Cards, who were tied for fourth when they came East, took over undisputed possession of the lead while rained out at Philadelphia simply because the Cincinnati Reds lost their second game in a row to the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-3, on Dolf Camilli's fifth homer of the year.

PIRATES BUCK UP

Pittsburgh Pirates, although beaten in their road finale by the Giants, 4-1, on the four-hit pitching of Southpaw Cliff Melton, compiled the best record of any club in the senior circuit for the period by winning six against two defeats—the other defeat being a 1-0 shutout at Philadelphia.

About the only club which proved its pennant calibre beyond doubt while standing pat on present strength was New York in the American League.

The champions won eight games and lost only to Cleveland and Chicago, even though Joe DiMaggio was left in New York convalescing from a leg injury and the once dangerous guns of Lou Gehrig were silenced by his benching.

Boston's Red Sox, tied for first when they hit the road, also lost only twice, to Chicago and St. Louis, but bad weather kept them idle three days, and their victories therefore totalled but five.

Their second defeat was a 3-2 jolt on the five-hit pitching of the veteran Ted Lyons, although the Sox themselves got only four blows from Woody Rich and Denny Galehouse.

DETROIT'S NOSEDIVE

Cleveland Indians made the biggest advance, moving from seventh to fourth place on five victories and three defeats.

Lefty Al Milnar established himself as a pitching standby by beating the Yankees in an 11-inning game and then shutting out the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-0, on five hits.

Worst mark for the period was Detroit's eight defeats against a single victory. In their interseasonal windup the Tigers were beaten, 4-2, by Washington.

Fire!

Spectacular blaze sweeps five grain elevators in Chicago, with eight men feared dead, 23 others injured, $4,000,000 damage.

Just 85

Mrs. Corrida Davis will admit she's growing old when she can't walk this Muncie, Ind., bridge girder on her birthday. She's been doing it for 11 years... now she's 85. Vital statistics: 17 children, 76 grandchildren, 40 great-grandchildren, 3 great-great-grandchildren.

Poison—With venom in her voice, her finger pointing accusingly over her shoulder, Mrs. Josephine Romualdo (left) implicates Mrs. Marie Woloshyn as Philadelphia poison-ringer... as both are held to grand jury as "murder for insurance" suspects. Their husbands died.
